Itinerary

Days 1–2 – Photo tour to Hong Kong

Departure with a direct flight (around 12h) or with a stopover (around 16h) to reach Hong Kong.

Meet at the hotel in the afternoon of the second day for check-in, an introductory briefing, neighbourhood exploration, and a group dinner.

Documents required for entry into Hong Kong

For tourists from an EU member country or Switzerland, a valid passport with an expiry date no earlier than three months after the "end of trip" date is sufficient. No entry or residence visa is required.

Days 3–9 – Hong Kong

Street photography workshop with photographer Didier Ruef.

There will be group outings combined with more flexible moments to explore the city individually or in smaller groups. The photography guide and coordinator will still be available for those who prefer not to explore on their own.

Some neighbourhoods of Hong Kong

- Mong Kok: the bustling neighbourhood offers endless opportunities for everyday life and street food shots.
- Sheung Wan: with its charming alleys and historic buildings, it's perfect for capturing Hong Kong's traditional atmosphere.
- Yau Ma Tei: here you can immerse yourself in local culture and take authentic photos of markets and traditional shops.
- Central: capture the energy of busy commercial streets and business life.
- Sham Shui Po: an ideal spot for street photography, street art, graffiti, and urban life in general.

Possible points of interest and excursions in Hong Kong:

- Victoria Peak: the hill (552 m) offering panoramic views of the metropolis.
- Ten Thousand Buddhas Monastery: a monastic complex with thousands of Buddha statues (you might count them to see if they really are ten thousand), located on a hilltop with sweeping city views.
- Po Lin Monastery: home to the Great Buddha Tian Tan, this monastery is a major Buddhist pilgrimage site and also offers panoramic views.
- Wong Tai Sin Temple: a temple dedicated to Wong Tai Sin, a Taoist deity, famous for prayers and requests for good fortune.
- Man Mo Temple: this ancient Taoist temple is dedicated to the deities Man (literature) and Mo (military) and is a spiritual oasis in the city's heart.
- Nan Lian Garden: a classic Chinese garden in Diamond Hill, covering 3.5 hectares, designed in Tang Dynasty style with hills, water features, trees, rocks, and wooden structures.
- Avenue of Stars: a promenade along Victoria Harbour's waterfront, modelled after Hollywood's Walk of Fame.
- Hong Kong Observation Wheel: a 60-metre-high panoramic observation wheel.
- F22 Foto Space: a photography gallery in central Hong Kong.
- Tai O: an iconic Tanka people village, a fishing community that has built its stilt houses on the tidal flats of Lantau Island for generations. These stilt houses are interconnected, forming a tightly-knit community living on the water. (about 45 minutes by boat)
- Macao: another Chinese special administrative region, formerly a Portuguese territory until 1999, famous for its casinos and shopping centres (about 1h/1h30 from Hong Kong).

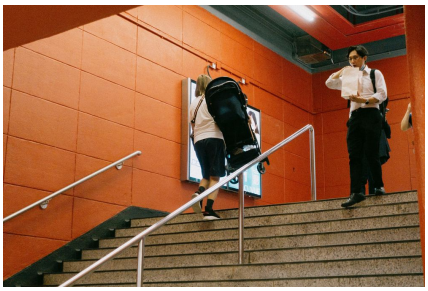

Days 10–11 – Departure

Departure on the tenth day with a direct flight (about 12h) or with a stopover (about 16h), arriving on the eleventh day.
